Tilting Table: A Movable Screen

D14

- A moveable screen brings interactivity between the virtual space and the physical space, and between the artifact and the viewer.

A moveable screen functions as a display/interface.

Tilting table brings intuitive actions for spatial and temporal navigation.

Current applications developed on the tilting table are:

Interactive Arts

1. A BeadBall Table (2003)
2. Cross-Being: Todd (2004)

Navigable Information Spaces

3. Tiltable Maps (2006)
4. BioBrosver: bug crawl (2006)

The MeatBook

The MeatBook, an interactive art installation, explores the use of unconventional tangible interfaces to provoke a visceral response.

After hundreds of years of literacy, it is argued that we have “lost” the robustness of our senses.

The MeatBook seeks to re-engage our most profound sense, the visceral.

Exploring Intensity-based Audio Feedback

| Audio Display | Approach to Intensity | Polarity |
|---------------|--|----------|
| Kazoo | Pitch Shift (Complex Tone) + Amplitude | Positive |
| Clave sticks | Tempo Shift + Amplitude | Positive |
| Egg Shakers | Tempo Shift + Amplitude | Positive |
| Triangle | Confirmatory Feedback | N/A |

Table . The table above shows the three audio display devices we used in the workshop and an explicit description of the respective approaches to intensity.

How do you feel in a situation without technology?

Come ti senti in una situazione senza tecnologia?

I feel that I am not wearing my clothes and am wearing body implants - what's technology anyway? Is What means home for you? ~~Is~~ my current maybe technology?
Cosa vuol dire casa per te? Is my mental expansion?

To be able to contribute to a societal process

What's the aim of travelling for you?

Qual è lo scopo del viaggio per te?

To de-centre and at the same time become grounded, centered.

To get from A to B,
to this conference, for example.

To experience some of my personalities.
